2nd FEZA SCHOOL

The Federation of the European Zeolite Associations (FEZA) together with the French Zeolite Group extend a cordial invitation to PhD students, young researchers and industrial newcomers to participate to the

2nd INTERNATIONAL FEZA SCHOOL which will be organized at the "Université Pierre et Marie Curie" in Paris, on September 1-2 2008

The objective of the 2nd FEZA School is to highlight the current state of the art in characterization techniques of zeolites and other porous materials

The number of participants will be limited to 100.

FEZA SCHOOL REGISTRATION

- Standard registration including a "school dinner" before 31 May 2008 200 €
- Combined registration "school and conference" before 31 May 2008
 - Standard 690 €
 - Students with justification 480 €

The organizing committee will be able to grant a financial assistance to a small number of applicants.

INVITATION

The organising committee cordially invites you to attend the 4th INTERNATIONAL FEZA CONFERENCE which will be held on
September 2-6, 2008

in the "Collège de France" situated in the historic center of Paris near the "Ile Saint-Louis", the "Quartier Latin", "La Sorbonne" and "Notre-Dame-de-Paris".

This conference is a continuation of the series of European Zeolite Conferences started in Eger 1999 (Hungary) followed by Taormina 2002 (Italy) and Prague 2005 (Czech Republic).

SCOPE OF THE CONFERENCE

The conference will be devoted to recent results of basic and applied research on zeolites, microporous and mesoporous molecular sieves, pillared clays, sol-gel chemistry and related materials.

The major topics of the 4th International FEZA Conference will include:

Synthesis, Characterization, Modification, Catalysis, Adsorption, Separation & Diffusion, Membranes and Films, Theory and Modelling, Natural Zeolites, Metal Organic Framework (M.O.F.), Sol-gel materials

LANGUAGE

English will be the official language of the conference
